 - December 2014 :

SimLab 3DS Importer for Maya now supports 3ds Max models with shadows! If you need to import 3ds Max models that have shadows you will need to install the SimLab 3DS Shadow Converter. Please refer to the SimLab Shadow Converter page to find out how to install it. To convert the shadowed model to the.obj format, use the SimLab Shadowed to Maya Converter. If you don't want to install the SimLab Shadow Converter you can also import the models in the.obj format. But since you won't be able to edit the.obj shadowed model to apply the shadow in 3DS Max, you will need to use the SimLab Convert Shadowed to Maya.obj converter. You can find the instructions to use this converter on the SimLab Shadowed to Maya Converter page.
